Passing of Taft

Under President Taft's administration, 81 civil and criminal suits have been instituted against trusts under the Sherman law. That is 19 more than the total number of prosecutions brought under all other administrations since the law was enacted in 1892,-Nashville (Tenn.) Democrat.

And what is more, a good proportion of them have been prosecuted cessfully. Some day the American people will appreciate the sincerity and the earnestness of Mr. Taft and his administration. During his four years as president-in fact during his whole public life-Mr. Taft has never been accused of making a "grand stand play" or pursuing a policy solely because it was popular. His equanimity has never been disturbed by passing storms of disapproval, and the only time he has been known to lose his temper was when he was loaded down with unjust accusations and calumny at the beginning of the last presidential campaign. His poise during the Ballinger controversy, the Pinchot and Glavis eruptions, the criticism of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, and the jingo yelps for intervention in Mexico, has been admirable. He was not embittered by his failure to be re-elected, and he is sincerely patriotic in wishing all success to Mr. Wilson.

As to the prosecutions under the Sherman law, for which our southern friend gives him credit. Mr. Taft undertook to administer the law as he found it, and he achieved results without undue flourish of trumpets. He has not had recourse to the ten-cent magazines to magnify his virtues, and the perfunctory press agent has had poor pickings during all

Commissioners Favor Plan

Through the faulty construction of a letter the board of county commissioners were charged with acting in direct opposition to the will of the taxpayers and there was considerable talk at a mass meeting of advocating the recall of the board. However, it now appears that the board is directly in favor of the plan of municipal ownership of the local sewerage system and will lend whatever influence they can to the calling of an election to determine if the town shall purchase the system.

The committee of citizens that interviewed the board several days ago was informed of the stand of the county officials. When the letter, expressing practically a different view was read at the meting, the discussion followed that advocated the recall of the commissioners. The blame is laid on the burried construction of the letter, instead of to a change of mind experienced by the board. As the situation now appears the board is working hand in hand with the committee to seek a solution of the affair, which will mean the submissal of the question of the town purchasing the sewerage system to a vote of the people.

A Uniform Divorce Law

A New York actress, seeking a divorce, informed the judge that she had been married because she "had nothing else to do that day." Like my Lord Tomnoddy who went to the hanging, she had to be amused, arently a marriage coron she could contrive at a moment's notice. She lived with her husband two days, and she got her decree

A woman as matter-of-fact as that will not be idle long. Give her average length of life and she will acquire enough ex-husbands to hold a convention, or, like Mrs. Skagga', they will be numerous enough to meet in any part of the country quite by accident.

Evidently it is not Reno that needs looking after as much as it is New York. Divorces like this woman's make Nevada look pale and ineffectual. It may be too late to head off "Miss" Brice from indefinitely multiplying the number of her allases, but what this country needs is a uniform divorce law.

Somehow, the Washington pie counter appears to have lost its attractiveness after President Wilson declared he would not personally see
